The Straits Governorship.

It is being said (reports the Singepore Free Press) in a probably well-informed quarter, that the new Governor is to arrive in February. But while in the quarter that | a responsible for this statement the belief exists that the man is Sir Arthur Havelock, another statement, based on a letter from a very well-known Singaporean who had just called at the Colonial Office before writing, is to the effect that the new Governor is Sir | Frank Swettenham, who by the way is still at home, and therefore in a position to make any personal representations he likes, and is actually also due out here in Febru-

The Bankruptcy Laws.

Commenting on the changes on the Bankruptcy Laws in Hongkong, the Singapore Free Fress says .- Such legislation in Singapore is all the more advisable from the frequency of changes in the Official Assigneo's department. Such a department is really as technical, if properly administered, as the P. C. M. O. ship or the Postmaster-General-ship, Perhaps a little less than the former, perhaps a little more than the latter. At any rate, the opportunity now afforded by action in Hongkong in the amendment of the Bankruptcy law, is one that should be taken full advantage of here at the earliest convenient moment. local legislation.

MURDER OF A REFORMER.

A Coldblooded Crime. Last night another horrible murder occurred in the Colony, this time on the Hongkong side of the Harbour. About seven p'clock, a report was made at the Central Police Station, that a man had been shot in Gage Street. The police accounpanied the informants to the scene of the crime, and learned, on arriving at the first floor of No. 52 Gago Street, entrance to which is by Samka lane, that soon after six o'clock in the evening, when the school-master Yeung Kii was holding his English class for boys, a man entered the floor behind one of the scholars and going up to Mr Young presented a revolver. The children fled from the school-room in terror. and before Mr Yeung had time to recover from his surprise at the manner of the man sion. Every one of the shots took effect. One entered his head, and the others penetrated his left shoulder, his chest and his the ground, while his assailant turned and fled. Not a word was spoken on either side. Mr Yeung was attended Chinese detective, who was In the vicinity at the time, hearing that shots had been fired, made his way to the place where he found Mr Young suffering from the wounds sentence is somewhat obscure. It might described. With commendable promptitude the detective removed the wounded man to the Government Civil Hospital, before the police from the Central Station arrived. An examination of the injuries showed that the victim of the crime had been mortally wounded, and Dr Bell took, his dying deposition. He expired early this morning. The class book, which deceased had had in chang, no progress has been made with the front of him when his assassin entered, was pierced by one of the bullets, and had been struck in another place by a bullet before entering his body, showing that deceased had attempted to shield himself with it. " A number of placards have been affixed n various parts of the city, speaking of the dire distress of China, and calling on mon to enrol themselves for the defence and deliverance of the country. Yellow paper was used, and red and black ink in writing the characters. The attention of H. M. Consul was called to the matter, and he acted with great promptitude. ARREST OF ROBBERS.

A band of thirteen robbers was arrested in Canton yesterday. They were wanted in connection with robberies in some villages near the city. The proof must have been beyond a doubt, for these men were at once put in hoats and carried to the villages where they had committed their depredations, and immediately beheaded.

Letter by Mr H.E. Pollock. The Navy League Journal prints a letter from Mr H. E. Pollock, Hon. In the course of his letter, which is addressed to the Secretary of the Navy League in London, Mr Pollock

Another matter which I wish to point out is that our Volunteers have now received four fresh guns of the same old pattern as before (i.e., obsolete and muzzleloading), to replace four guns which our Regular troops took up north. We hope that you will see your way to make a vigorous protest against this important outpost of the Empire being made a dumpingground for out-of-date weapons; and you may also think it worth while to rub in the I fact that the four guns taken up north were not only hopelessly inferior in calibre to the Chinese guns (which latter were breechloiders), but that those guns of ours were actually found to be dangerous, because they draw the enemy's fire by reason of using black powder aminuvition, which was the only kind available for them.

SUPREME COURT.

IN SUMMARY JURISDICTION. (Refore His Honour T. Sercombe Smith. Acting Puisne Judge.) Friday, January 11, 1901.

to a pinnace lost in the recent typhoon. Mr H. W. Looker, (Messrs Deacon and Hastings) appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr G. K. H. Brutton (Messrs Mounsey whose judgment on naval matters is and Brutton) for the defendants. His Lordship delivered judgment to-day as follows :- On or about 20th December, 1899, Mosses Sculfort and Co. sent a pin- the line of battle, England now stands nace to the Kwong Tak Cheung ship carpenter and munch builder's firm to be repaired. According to the evidence, the contract was that the pinnace was to be repaired by the Kwong Tak Chenng firm in respect of the woodwork, eng nes, bottom and deck, etc., and that when the rapairs had been done, payment was to be made by Sculfort and C. The time limit and the price were not fixed. Having found the scontract to be as stated, the first point to be decided is whether that contract is an entire or an apportionable contract : that is, whether everything to be done by the Kweng Tak Cheung firm must be performed before payment was due from Sculfort and Co., or whether the repairs required to be done by the firm had the right of obtaining payment on their way, Petroparlorsk, Sissoi Veliki, pro tanto from Sculfort and Co. The conunder which it was a condition precedent to payment that the repairs should be done. The object of the repairs was obviously to render the pinnace fit for service, and, unless that object was achieved, the repairs contracted for had not been executed. No objection has been taken to the pices charged, but it is alleged in defence that the remains charged for have not been executed. It is clear from the evidence that, in April, 1900, the pinnace had not been repaired so as to be fit for service, and it is common ground that, in April, 1900, after an unsuccessful trial trip, a list of repairs was sent to the Kwong Tak Cheung by Sculfort and Co. Later, the Kwong Tak Cheung sent the following letter to Scalfort and Co.:

Hongkong, 5th June, 19 0. DEAR Sins, -I beg to advise you that the launch under repairs is ready, therefore, please take delivery of same, and send a man to take charge, as my responsibility crases from to-day. Enclose herewith my D/note for repairs done.-Yours faithfully, Kwong Tuck Cheong, per A.J. To Messis L. Sculfort and Co. Accompanying this letter was a bill. There is no direct evidence to show whether, at the date of that letter, the panance had been repaired or not. There is evidence to show that, in August, the engines! were in a worse state than they were in April, and that, on or about 18th September ! and 20th September, the pinnace was not serviceable and that the engines were defeetive as they had been in April. It is possible that, during the interval between oth June and August and September, any repairs duly effected had deteriorated through the engines lying idle. But who was to blame for the engines having lain idle? There is no evidence that the Kwong Tak Cheung had had a private trial before they wrote the letter of 5th June, and, therefore, no evidence on that ground that the repairs had been effected. Their statemout that 'the launch under repairs is ready' is not evidence of the fact being as stated. Apart from arrangement, the natural course would be that the repairer or contractor should make a trial trip in the presence of his client: there is, however, no direct evidence that that is the custom. But there respect between the parties both prior and subsequent to the 5th June, 1930. It is clear that in April and September last, the plaintiffs, at the request of the defendants. got up steam and made trials in the presence of the defendants, Such action appears to mo to indicate that an understanding between the parties was arrived at, subsequent to the making of the main League Journal. contract, to the effect that, on demand by the defendants, the plaintiffs were to have a trial trip when the repairs were reported to be executed. In arce of this understanding, Mr Thermy stated that, between April and August, he had sent his compradore five or six times to arrange for a trial, that Company for presentation to the share-Chui Ng often saw him and asked for payment, that he always told him that he wanted a trial with an engineer, and, if the trial were satisfactory, would pay him. In August, by arrangement, a trial was to take place but steam was not up when Thermy and an of the Company, with a statement of ac- | ment of India is now carefully considering engineer went on board.
